

Volunteers Opportunities: A gift to the community

Offering a volunteer training program at white hall daycare can go a long way to building parent confidence and building involvement. Sessions might be considered e.g. providing coaching on being a reading buddy, Art buddy, in door activity buddy, Outdoor physical buddy or a library assistant.

Parents often welcome information on a variety of topics related to parenting and their children's schooling.

Consider developing information sessions on topics such as the parent-teacher interview, working successfully with educators inside the rooms.
